

A different approach to screening: supporting children and families in the early years

Ontario's vision for special needs includes "a new, voluntary developmental screen to identify potential risks to children's development".

The INCH lab conducts research focused on children's mental and physical health. The group's major studies focus on assessing child development through screening tools, tracking coordination and motor development in children over time, as well as designing and evaluating tools used to determine if children meet developmental milestones.

Presented by: Dr. John Cairney

A workshop for early learning and child care professionals, agencies supporting children 0-6 years

When: Monday January 12, 2015

Where: Mississauga Convention Centre
75 Derry Road
Mississauga, ON L5W 1G3

Registration: 1:00 am – 1:30 pm

Time: 1:30 pm – 4:00 pm

To register please follow this link: Register Here
Contact judy@cdrpc.com if you need assistance registering

Coordinated by: Child Development Resource Connection Peel